Architect SK Goel uses the drama of monochrome in this 209 sq ft dining room in an apartment in Delhi. "We stuck to white and black, with a few rust brown touches. Black details such as the shelves and seating are designed for a bold look. The key design element here is the unique feature wall with geometric patterns," says Goel.

TIP | DON'T FOLLOW RULES

"Dining room design should be inviting, comfortable and functional. There are no rules while designing, sky's the limit. But you can save your time by designing according to your preferences and style. Plan the space to comfortably navigate around the furniture. Rugs can define the room and make it look cosier. Choose the size of rug such that the chair legs remain on it."
